CORPORATE SECURITY MANAGEMENT PROGRAM

Training Today for Securing Tomorrow

Most suitable for Fresh Graduates who are looking to serve as security officers in corporates and working professionals from the security sector.

Need for Capable Security Officers at the Cutting Edge Level

The Indian Private Security Industry (PSI) is expected to grow at about 20% CAGR owing to the changing landscape of the sector in India. The PSI is amongst the largest employers in India, employing almost 8.9 million people, with the potential to employ 3.1 million more within the next few years. There is likely to be a requirement of at least 90,000 Security Executives/officers for managing the guard force, in addition to the requirement of in-house executives/officers for various corporates/organizations in the near term.

As seen during the peak of the COVID-19 pandemic, effective management of security during that critical period has been a game changer and companies that have withstood the pandemic best and shown maximum resilience have had very good security management protocols, processes and capable teams to implement them. To build on this and be future ready, security teams have to have the required reliability and dependability, which hinge on having committed and capable security staff. Though companies may be having capable senior level officers in their security verticals, there is a need felt to employ young security officers at the cutting edge level with the required capabilities, who will have a lot of motivation, drive and energy and also grow in the organization. Unfortunately, this need for capable officers at the cutting edge level is not being met through professionally trained persons.

About the Corporate Security Management Program

Raxa Academy is conducting regular courses to bridge this gap and training young graduates as capable young security officers through the “Corporate Security Management Program” course. The first batch officers have successfully completed their training and passed out from the Academy on 08th Apr 2022 and the second batch is undergoing training. We feel great pride in announcing that all our candidates have been successfully placed in different organisations. The third batch for this six months’ residential course is starting from 01st September 2022. The selected participants will undergo intensive training in modules as given below based on the POA (ASIS Protection of Assets manual) which is considered and recognised as the “Gold Standard” for the security professional worldwide. The faculty would be the best in the business and highly qualified CPP/ CFE/ professionals.
